The SF Bay Bad Date List collects reports of violence and consolidates them into usable reports for community. By submitting your report of a bad date you are helping keep other workers safe from harm. Thank you for your strength and power in doing so.

The Bad Date List is a community-based violence intervention tool utilized by sex workers to share information regarding “bad dates.” A Bad Date may be any person who threatens, behaves violently towards, robs, extorts, or engages in any behavior that violates the agreed upon terms and boundaries of the exchange. This list may also be used to report bad encounters with law enforcement.
